Kundenrezensionen Hilfreichste Kundenrezensionen 0 von 0 Kunden fanden die folgende Rezension hilfreich. sweet story, endearing Von Golden Gryphon This story is a story of growing, finding a place to start and then take charge of your life. The heroine of this story had an accident with fire and the scars to prove it. In a difficult economy she is struggling to find a job and coming to terms with her looks, feeling her scars are making her an outsider and life itself more difficult for her. The Hero also has his difficulties: his dream job and sport ambitions have been sabotaged by his brothers drug habits. Now he has to find a different future for himself. Both meet in a park, and over the allotment as "centerpiece" manage to find happiness, structure and a new way to fashion their future.

Kurzbeschreibung A novella-length gentle love story. Physically and mentally scarred after a terrible accident, Claire is trying to pull her life together. In working with him in the garden he has created, Claire finds peace and a purpose in life, along with the first steps towards friendship and, perhaps, even love. However, Claire's fragile, new-found confidence is threatened when family loyalties cause friction between them. Also by Linda M Priestley: "Book Lovers" A Contemporary Romance.
