Book 3Von Detra FitchPhotojournalist Melissa Pope, working with CIA, is investigating the fact that someone working for UN Peacekeeping Operations has been using Peacekeeping transports to smuggle weapons and other illegal goods.

She gets the vital information and is to meet her contact at a party later that night. However, Melissa never expected her contact to be a blast from the past. British Special Agent Nigel Ferris is the contact for the US based group "Last Chance". It has been fifteen years since he last saw Melissa, but his heart has never forgotten. After collecting some information from her, they separate. Nigel did not expect to see her again. Yet when Melissa contacts him only a short time later, Nigel knows she is in trouble and does not hesitate to help. He takes her to his buddies of "Last Chance". Melissa had gone to a small diner to meet her handler, Ed. After some bad coffee and a bit of pie, Melissa is worried. Ed has never been late, much less missed a meeting. She leaves the diner only to find herself vomiting in a nearby alley from poisoning. When she comes to consciousness the next morning, Melissa finds herself covered in someone else's blood. Official looking vehicles surround her residence, so she calls Nigel for help. Melissa and Nigel find themselves deeply involved in a game of international intrigue. The race is on to not only clear Melissa's name of murder, but to locate a stash of nerve agent that is en route to the US. **** Here is another non-stop action romance from the fascinating imagination of author Dee Davis. I cannot help but wonder if the author has some sort of experience in black-ops since she is able to give such wonderful details throughout each novel. Not only are the characters believable in this novel, but the methods used to collect evidence and capture the bad guys are astounding. I learn something new in each book I read from Dee Davis. This is the third book in the "Last Chance Trilogy". I can only hope that I will see more of this agency in the future. **** Reviewed by Detra Fitch of Huntress Reviews. 0 von 0 Kunden fanden die folgende Rezension hilfreich. Routinierter Romantic Suspense Roman Von LoveLetter Magazin Der britische Geheimdienstmann Nigel Ferris soll mit Hilfe seiner amerikanischen Kollegen gestohlene Kanister mit Nervengas sicherstellen und so einen terroristischen Anschlag vereiteln. Der Verbleib der Massenvernichtungswaffe ist völlig ungeklärt, als Anschlagziel vermutet die Spezialeinheit New York. Da die CIA seit geraumer Zeit verdeckte Ermittlungen bei Waffenschmuggel in UN-Friedensmissionen durchführt, erhofft man sich durch den Austausch von Informationen neue Erkenntnisse. Nigel soll als Kontaktmann zu dem Undercover-Agenten fungieren. Dieser entpuppt sich nicht nur als Frau, sondern auch als Nigels ehemalige Geliebte. Melissa Pope ist ebenso überrascht den Mann wieder zu sehen, den sie nie vergessen konnte. Obwohl sie nicht im Guten auseinander gegangen sind, wendet sich Melissa Hilfe suchend an Nigel, als sie enttarnt wird. Die Abschiedsvorstellung der Last Chance, Inc. Trilogie ist erneut ein gelungener Romantic Suspense Roman. Er ist allerdings nicht ganz so mitreißend wie seine Vorgänger. Routiniert erzählt die Autorin eine spannende Geschichte. Als Leser freut man sich auf das Wiedersehen mit alten Bekannten. Trotz vereinzelter Verweise auf die ersten Teile der Serie, kann man dem Geschehen auch ohne Vorkenntnisse folgen. Die Liebesgeschichte zwischen Held und Heldin ist nett, verursacht aber kein so starkes emotionales Feuerwerk, wie Davis es im letzten Band geschaffen hat. Die wirklich rasante Action findet erst am Schluss statt, dafür an gleich zwei spektakulären Handlungsorten. Zunächst vor der Küste, dann bei den Dchern New Yorks muss die Stadt, die niemals schläft, vor einer Katastrophe bewahrt werden. Der Epilog offeriert schließlich einen stimmigen Abschluss.

Kurzbeschreibung The men and women of Last Chance, Inc. are back in another heart-stopping tale! British special agent Nigel Ferris has devoted his life to working covert operations, and avoiding relationships. Until he's called upon to help foil an International terrorist plot, and comes face to face with the one woman who ever came close to scaling his emotional walls. Photojournalist Melissa Pope knows that the intelligence she's been gathering is invaluable so much so that someone's willing to kill to get her for it. But the man assigned by Last Chance to protect her is another kind of threat altogether. Drawn into the heart of a dangerous game of International intrigue, Melissa and Nigel are soon fighting for their lives and for the chance to explore the long-denied passion that still burns between them. Exposure is the third book in Dee Davis's newly re-released Last Chance series. Other books include Endgame and Enigma.
