Von William S Burroughs : Exterminator! (Penguin Modern Classics) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Exterminator! (Penguin Modern Classics):

Burroughs that, in my opinion, comes close to the absolute genius of "Naked Lunch." A fragmented novel of strange vignettes, loosely incorporating the theme of the exterminator and his grim trade as its focus, the book reads like a hallucinatory nightmare version of the Sunday comics from an unseen world better left undiscovered. Brilliant, funny, sad and disturbing--everything grteat writing should be.0 von 0 Kunden fanden die folgende Rezension hilfreich. bits and pieces of the geniusVon Ein KundeAs fragmentation was always Burroughs trademark, this collection of short stories or pieces of prose and some poems fits in with the whole of his oeuvre perfectly well, because it sheds light on some dark passages of his earlier work. Moreover it is essential in that it contains some of his most lyrical prose, the tale of the Priest has a transcending beauty resembling that of Joyce's The Dead. Where in the Wild Boys his straightforward attempts at more traditional writing failed occasionally in blending with his experimental voice for which he is so renown, here they serve as counterpoints that have their own mysterious power, be it that there are also traces of the writers block that was building up inside of Burroughs round the time this was published. It was not before Places of the Dead Roads that he would fully realize and bring to bloom the possibilities created by this endeavour, although in a way this book can be seen as a try out for his epical masterpiece Cities of the Red Night that lacks the flow of the phrases that shine from the pages of this flawed gem.0 von 0 Kunden fanden die folgende Rezension hilfreich. Half-sane and descriptive-less intro to ExterminationVon Ein KundeAmm... Huh. Burroughs flits flutters thru eyes like brown beacons to attract lusty exterminators... High on black centipede dust... Fondling remembrances of the Lemon Kid.. Oh... You're new around here, well, as good a spot as any to begin...Unlike other Interzone pieces, here you feel as new jelly... Comfortable, yet gelatinous. The Liquefaction agents cheer through Mexico and law disorders... Everything is addiction... BUt No hangings here... Must for neophytes, tame for William S, after all... Then you are ready, as a new agent,,,,,, to go on to deeper levels.

KurzbeschreibungA man, dispirited by ageing, endeavours to steal a younger mans face; a doctor yearns for a virus that might eliminate his discomfort by turning everyone else into doubles of himself; a Colonel lays out the precepts of the life of DE (Do Easy); conspirators posthumously succeed in blowing up a train full of nerve gas; a mandrill known as the Purple Better One runs for the presidency with brutal results; and the world drifts towards apocalypses of violence, climate and plague. The hallucinatory landscape of William Burroughs compellingly bizarre, fragmented novel is constantly shifting, something sinister always just beneath the surface.KurzbeschreibungA man, dispirited by ageing, endeavours to steal a younger mans face; a doctor yearns for a virus that might eliminate his discomfort by turning everyone else into doubles of himself; a Colonel lays out the precepts of the life of DE (Do Easy); conspirators posthumously succeed in blowing up a train full of nerve gas; a mandrill known as the Purple Better One runs for the presidency with brutal results; and the world drifts towards apocalypses of violence, climate and plague.
