KundenrezensionenHilfreichste Kundenrezensionen1 von 1 Kunden fanden die folgende Rezension hilfreich. leicht witzig cleanVon Viel-Lese-MausKann man um der Karriere Willen in einer Show die groe Liebe spielen und echt (!) heiraten? Zwei Moderatoren gehen fr viel Geld darauf ein. Schwierig wird es als echte Gefhle ins Spiel kommen. Wass ist echt? Was ist Show?Sehr gut geschrieben. Man ist sofort in der Geschichte drinnen und will bis zum Schluss wissen wie es weiter geht. Leichte Kost ohne sehr tiefen Inhalt aber nicht völlig platt, die Charaktere haben schon ihre Geschichte und nicht alles ist rosig. Clean! Victorine E. Lieske zeigt, dass man Spannung erzeugen kann, ohne dass die Charaktere sich nur an die Wsche wollen. The show does fairly well because of the way Adam tries to put Megan on the spot and her witty comebacks. When Leon, their boss, comes up with a dating scheme for the show, things get interesting. Megan and Adam try to put each other on the spot on their dates. The funny dates go over well with the audience and the show gains the attention of a national tv station. Adam and Megan agree to do a show where Adam is trying to win Megan over and Megan agrees to marry him. The wedding is supposed to be the highlight of the show. The tv station insists on the wedding being real although the love between Megan and Adam isn't. But as expected....the heart doesn't play the same game as the mind.

Kurzbeschreibung A Clean Romantic Comedy Megan Holloway cant stand her local morning show co-host, Adam Warner, even though hes a total hunk. He goads her on-air until she says things she regrets. But since ratings increase each time they have an on-air fight, the producer encourages his behavior. When a relationship specialist comes onto the show purporting that Adam has hidden feelings for her, she reluctantly agrees to go out with him on camera. What starts out as one date turns into a viral dating show with Megan and Adam alternating between locking lips and knocking heads. As Megan fights her growing attraction to Adam, their popularity increases and ABC takes notice, offering them their own program. Not a morning show like Megan is hoping, but a dating show in which she and Adam must marry at the end. With the promise of a hundred thousand dollars and the possibility of scoring what she really wants, her own national program, she signs on. What she doesn't know is that Adam has fallen in love with her, and his objective is to get her to do the same. This is a sweet romance, appropriate for any age.
