Good supplement to the moon wreck storiesVon starbooksIHAnd it gives you a good idea about the devastation the Hocklyn brought upon the Federation worlds. I was a bit worried if it would be too depressing to read since we already know who won, but it is also a story about survival and hope. And be amazed what really good planning ahead can do. And of course learn more about our ships A I s capabilities. And, who is pulling the strings of the Hocklyns?0 von 0 Kunden fanden die folgende Rezension hilfreich. To much introspectionVon Helmut HenschelNice story and fun to read but would be even more fun if not padded with the protagonists' very repetitive musings of how nice it would be at home with the dear ones. And it is amusing to see that the lovelife of much decorated and senior military heros has to follow the frugal rules of midwestern adolescents of the 1950s.0 von 0 Kunden fanden die folgende Rezension hilfreich. very linear and poor plotVon digi604I didn't enjoy this book very much. Too many fill paragraphs with people contemplating their situation. The reason for the 2 huban worlds doesn't make sense and feels too much constructed.

KurzbeschreibungThe United Federation of Worlds thought they were alone in the galaxy. But now an alien spacecraft has appeared over one of their mining operations. The frightened miners call for help to deal with this first contact situation. Admiral Streth is sent to defuse the situation and discover what the aliens want. The aliens are called Hocklyns, and they claim to come from a trading federation. In truth, they come from and empire that conquers worlds for slaves and they have set their sights on the human worlds as their next conquest.KurzbeschreibungThe United Federation of Worlds thought they were alone in the galaxy. I attended college at SWOSU in Weatherford Oklahoma, majoring in Math with minors in Creative Writing and History. My hobbies include watching soccer, reading, camping, and of course writing. I coached youth soccer for twelve years before moving on and becoming a high school soccer coach for thirteen more. I also enjoy playing with my grandchildren. I am an avid reader and have a science fiction / fantasy collection of over two thousand paperbacks. I want future generations to know the experiance of reading a good book, as I have over the last forty years. I also have a very vivid imagination, which sometimes worries my friends. They never know what I am going to say or what I am going to do.
